

Direct Mail Campaigns

Reach Motivated Sellers in a Timeless, Targeted Way

Introduction to Direct Mail

This lesson introduces direct mail as a timeless, targeted strategy for generating real estate leads—especially from sellers who don't respond well to digital outreach. You'll learn what direct mail is, why it still works, and how to launch your first campaign using tools like postcards, letters, or handwritten notes.

We'll walk you through the tools, costs, list sources, and best practices to help you take your first step with confidence.

What to Expect and How It Works

This lesson covers:

- What direct mail is and why it still works
 - Who it's best for and how to get started
 - What to send: postcards, letters, or handwritten notes
 - How to find and filter lead lists
 - Where to send mail and how to track it
 - Tools to use and your first campaign challenge

Why Direct Mail Works

- Avoids spam folders—your message lands directly in the seller's hands
- Stands out in a digital world, especially for older homeowners
- Builds familiarity and trust when mailed consistently
- Ideal when paired with quality data from tools like Deal Driven

 Example: A seller might toss your first postcard, but when they see the third—just as they're thinking about selling—it clicks.

📌 Who Direct Mail Is Best For

- Investors ready to commit to monthly outreach
 - Best used with:
 - ✓ A filtered lead list (absentee, high equity, inherited)
 - ✓ A $100–$300 monthly budget
 - ✓ Time to follow up 7–10 days after mailing
 - ✓ Zip code knowledge for geo-targeting
 - ✓ A CRM or spreadsheet to track responses

📌 What Should You Send?

- ✓ Postcards – Short, bold, and to the point. Great for mass mail.
- ✓ Letters – Feel more personal and trusted by older homeowners.
- ✓ Handwritten Notes – Most personal. Use for small, highly targeted lists like preforeclosures.

📌 Use tools like Canva, Deal Driven, REIPrintMail, Click2Mail, Handwrytten, or write them yourself.

📌 How to Find the Right Mailing List

Use Deal Driven to filter by:

- Vacant homes
- Non-owner occupied properties
- High equity
- Single or multi-family
- Ownership 5+ years

📌 Once your campaign is launched, track its status in Deal Driven:

- Yellow/Orange = Campaign started
- Green = Mail is en route or delivered

📌 Follow up 7 days after delivery with a call or text. This is where most engagement happens.

📌 Tools to Send Mail Automatically

- Deal Driven – Find leads and send mail from one platform
- REIPrintMail – Professional templates, scheduled mailings
- Ballpoint Marketing – Handwritten-style cards that convert well
- Click2Mail – Quick letter printing and mailing
- Postalytics – Mail tracking and automation
- Vistaprint – Design and order postcards

Track all mailings in your CRM or spreadsheet.

Student Challenge – Launch Your First Mail Campaign

Try one of these this week:

- Pull 25–50 leads using Deal Driven
- Design and send postcards using Canva or REIPrintMail
- Mail 10 letters with Click2Mail or DIY
- Handwrite 5–10 notes and sign them yourself
- Track every contact and follow up
- BONUS: Schedule a second round for 30 days later

 Start simple. Focus on action. Learn as you go.

Key Takeaways

- Direct mail cuts through the noise and reaches sellers directly
 - Ideal for reaching older or offline property owners
 - Best results come with repetition and follow-up
 - Combine with Deal Driven data for stronger targeting
 - Keep it simple—just stay consistent

In Closing

This week, launch your first direct mail campaign—even if it's small.

Try it. Track it. Learn from it.

If it works, scale it up. If it doesn't, try another strategy in this course.

You don't need to master everything at once. Choose what fits your style—and take action.

We're here to support you, every step of the way.
