

Paid Marketing and Why It Works

Accelerate Growth, Target with Precision, and Scale with Confidence

📌 Introduction to Paid Marketing

This lesson introduces paid marketing as a powerful tool for real estate investors who are ready to increase lead flow, reach motivated audiences faster, and grow their business at scale.

Unlike organic marketing, which builds trust over time, paid advertising delivers your message directly to the right people—immediately. You'll learn how to use platforms like Facebook, Google, and YouTube to target sellers, buyers, or partners with precision. Whether you're working with $5 a day or scaling up, this lesson will show you what works, how to avoid common pitfalls, and how to start with strategy.

✅ What to Expect and How It Works

This lesson covers:

- What paid marketing is and how it accelerates lead generation
 - Which platforms work best for different goals (sellers, buyers, branding)
 - How to set up your first campaign on a small budget
 - What tools, landing pages, and tracking metrics you need
 - Mistakes to avoid when launching and managing ad campaigns
 - How paid and organic marketing work together
-

📌 What Paid Marketing Really Means

- Paid marketing is paying to place your message in front of a targeted audience
- Ads can drive traffic to landing pages, lead forms, or videos
- Used to find motivated sellers, cash buyers, or raise visibility
- Popular platforms include Facebook, Instagram, Google, and YouTube

📝 Example: A $10/day Facebook ad targeting homeowners in preforeclosure can generate seller leads while you sleep—if your message is clear and relevant.

📌 Why Paid Marketing Works

- Speed—ads can deliver leads 24/7 without manual outreach
 - Scalability—you can increase your budget once a campaign is working
 - Precision—target exactly who you want based on location, keywords, or behavior
 - Efficiency—even a small daily spend can generate strong results with the right targeting
-

📌 Top Paid Marketing Platforms

- Facebook & Instagram – Great for visual storytelling and seller lead generation
- Google Ads – Best for capturing high-intent “ready-to-sell” searches
- YouTube Ads – Ideal for video marketing and building trust with long-form content

Choose a platform that aligns with your communication style and audience.

📌 Getting Started with Paid Ads

- Start with a clear message—know who you want to reach
 - Build a simple landing page or lead form to capture info
 - Set a daily budget—start with $5–$10/day to test campaigns
 - Use tools like Facebook Ads Manager, Google Ads, or YouTube Studio to launch and track ads
-

📌 Common Mistakes to Avoid

- Don't run ads without knowing what a lead is worth to you
- Avoid sending traffic to unfocused homepages—use clear, specific landing pages
- Don't skip follow-up—response time can make or break a deal
- Don't quit after a few days—paid ads take testing, learning, and iteration

📌 Ads work when you stay consistent and commit to optimizing over time.

📌 Organic + Paid = Smart Growth

- Organic builds long-term trust and authority
- Paid delivers speed, reach, and consistent lead flow
- Together, they form a balanced marketing engine for real estate success

 Example: A video shared organically can be turned into a retargeting ad campaign—amplifying content that’s already proven to work.

Key Takeaways

- Paid marketing helps you reach the right people faster and more consistently
 - You don’t need a huge budget to start—just clarity and a plan
 - Platform selection should match your style and audience
 - Success comes from smart messaging, focused targeting, and regular follow-up
 - Use paid marketing to scale what’s already working in your business
-

What’s Next

Now that you understand how paid marketing works, explore the platform or method that best fits your current goals. Whether you start with Facebook, YouTube, or Google, begin with intention, track your results, and stay committed to learning.

 Paid marketing is how you scale trust into traction. Ready to grow? Let’s go.